

Tax Year 2017: Important Information for Connecticut Residents

This information may assist you in preparing your Connecticut state income tax return.

Connecticut State Income Tax

If during 2017 you were subject to tax in Connecticut and held shares of either of the Fidelity mutual funds listed on the following table, you may have received federally taxable 2017 capital gain distributions that are partially or completely exempt from Connecticut state income tax. In general, these amounts represent net gains realized by each fund on the sale of exempt securities, which you should report on Line 47 of Schedule 1, Form CT-1040 (Connecticut Resident Income Tax Return).

To determine the amount of each capital gain distribution that may be exempt from Connecticut state income tax, multiply the amount you received for each distribution listed in the table by the exempt percentage. The amount of each capital gain distribution you received per fund is reported:

- For Fidelity brokerage accounts, in the Supplemental Information portion of your 2017 1099 Tax Statement—find the Details of 1099-DIV Transactions, Total Capital Gains Distributions Detail, column 2a
- For Fidelity mutual fund accounts, in the Transaction Details Section of your 2017 year-end Investment Report or your applicable monthly/quarterly account statement.
