Fidelity Arizona College Savings Plan Index Portfolios among most affordable in 529 industry

BOSTON, July 6, 2016 - Fidelity Investments® and the Arizona Commission for Postsecondary Education have announced a reduction in total asset-based fees for the Fidelity Arizona College Savings Plan Index Portfolios. Fees will now range from 0.11 percent to 0.20 percent, depending on the investment portfolio. This 30-52 percent decrease makes the Arizona plan Index Portfolio expenses among the very lowest in the 529 college savings plan industry.

This reduction is the result of recent enhancements made to Fidelity's overall index fund line-up, now providing Fidelity Arizona College Savings Plan Index Portfolios access to lower priced share classes for underlying mutual funds, as well as a drop in total net expenses on those underlying funds.

"We recognize that parents are working hard to save for college, and lower fees mean more of our customers' money can be invested directly toward their children's education," said Keith Bernhardt, vice president of college planning and retirement products at Fidelity. "Fidelity is committed to providing a robust menu of investment options that offer great value alongside trusted customer-focused planning guidance, online tools and educational resources. This reduction can help families with Fidelity Arizona College Savings Plan accounts feel confident that they are on track to meet their savings goals."

Total expenses for the 529 Index Portfolios, including program management and state fees, now range from 0.11 percent to 0.20 percent of assets, down from 0.19 percent to 0.29 percent. The Fidelity Arizona College Savings Plan continues to have no annual account fee or low-balance fee.

Fidelity Study Finds Arizona Families Utilizing 529 Plans at an All-Time High

Fidelity research finds that the number of Arizona families saving for college is at an all-time high (64 percent), but keeping up with the rising cost of college costs remains a challenge. According to Fidelity's annual College Savings Indicator Study¹, the typical Arizona family is currently on track to cover just 20 percent of their college funding goals by the time their child graduates from high school.

While parents are still behind when it comes to saving to meet their college goals, the 9th annual study found a number of positive steps being taken. Fifty-eight percent of Arizona families report having a financial plan in place to help reach their college goals. Use of 529 college savings plans continues to grow (33 percent), increasing three percent from last year, and 89 percent of 529 plan owners in Arizona say they have either increased their savings or continued to save at the same rate over the past 12 months.

“It is exciting to report simultaneously that the percentage of Arizona families saving for college is at an all-time high, and that Fidelity’s popular Index Portfolios received a very nice reduction in fees. We hope these announcements will spur even more families to save for college,” said Dr. April Osborn, Executive Director of the Arizona Commission for Postsecondary Education. “Opening and contributing regularly to a college savings plan is motivational for both the child and the family. It provides parents multiple opportunities to talk to their children about the value of education and it also allows parents to model for the child the discipline of saving – both setting an expectation of educational success.”
