

Tax Year 2015: Important Information for Maryland Residents

This information may assist you in preparing your Maryland state income tax return.

If during 2015 you were subject to tax in Maryland and held shares of any of the Fidelity mutual funds listed on the following table, the table below lists the percentages of any federally taxable distributions you received from these funds that may be exempt from Maryland state income tax. These distributions that may be at least partially exempt from Maryland state income tax represent exempt gains or ordinary income realized by the funds on the sale of certain securities.

The total federally taxable distribution amounts are reported by fund in your 1099 Tax Reporting Statement:

- For Fidelity brokerage accounts, in the Supplemental Information portion of your 2015 1099 Tax Statement—find the Details of 1099-DIV Transactions, Total Capital Gains Distributions Detail, column 2a.
- For Fidelity mutual fund accounts, in the Transaction Details Section of your 2015 year-end Investment Report or your applicable monthly/quarterly account statement.
