

Tax Year 2016: Important Information for Ohio Residents

This information may assist you in preparing your Ohio state income tax return.

If during 2016 you were subject to tax in Ohio and held shares of any of the funds listed in the table below, a portion of any federally taxable distributions you received may be exempt from Ohio state income tax. The percentage of each distribution that may be exempt from Ohio state income tax represents exempt capital gains realized by the fund on the sale of certain securities.

To determine the amount of each capital gain distribution that may be exempt from Ohio state income tax, multiply the amount you received for each capital gain distribution by the exempt percentage listed on the table below. The amount of each capital gain distribution you received is reported:

- For Fidelity brokerage accounts, in the Supplemental Information portion of your 2016 1099 Tax Statement—find the Details of 1099-DIV Transactions, Total Capital Gains Distributions Detail, column 2a.
- For Fidelity mutual fund accounts, in the Transaction Details Section of your 2016 year-end Investment Report or your applicable monthly/quarterly account statement.
