

Tax Year 2012: Important Information for Ohio Residents

This information may assist you in preparing your Ohio state income tax return.

If during 2012 you were subject to tax in Ohio and held shares of any of the funds listed in the table below, a portion of any federally taxable distributions you received may be exempt from Ohio state income tax. The percentage of each distribution that may be exempt from Ohio state income tax represents exempt capital gains realized by the fund on the sale of certain securities.

To determine the amount of each capital gain distribution that may be exempt from Ohio state income tax, multiply the amount you received for each capital gain distribution, listed on the table below, by the exempt percentage. The amount of each capital gain distribution you received is reported:

- For Fidelity Brokerage Accounts, in the Supplemental Information portion of your 2012 1099 Tax Statement—find the Details of 1099-DIV Transactions, Total Capital Gains Distributions Detail, column 2a.
- For Fidelity Mutual Fund Accounts, in column 2a, Form 1099-DIV, Dividends and Distributions, in your 2012 1099 Tax Statement.
