

Tax Year 2018: Important Information for Connecticut Residents

This information may assist you in preparing your Connecticut state income tax return.

Connecticut State Income Tax

*Please note: No Fidelity municipal bond funds or municipal money market funds paid federally taxable distributions that require Connecticut-specific information in 2018.

Connecticut Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT)

If you need to calculate Connecticut AMT income, the table below lists percentages that can be used to determine the amount of specified private-activity bond interest dividends you received that may be exempt from Connecticut AMT for the Fidelity® Connecticut Municipal Income Fund and the Fidelity® Connecticut Municipal Money Market Fund. In general, these amounts represent interest on Connecticut private-activity bonds, which you should report on Line 4 of Form CT-6251 (Connecticut Alternative Minimum Tax Return—Individuals).

To determine the amount of private-activity bond interest dividends that may be exempt from Connecticut AMT, multiply the tax-exempt interest dividends you received for each fund listed in the table below by the exempt percentage. The amount of tax-exempt interest dividends you received per fund is reported:

- For Fidelity brokerage accounts, in the Supplemental Information portion of your 2018 1099 Tax Statement, Details of 1099-DIV Transactions, the Total Ordinary Dividends and Distributions Detail, column 11.
- For Fidelity mutual fund accounts, in your 2018 Tax Reporting Statement (1099-DIV Dividends and Distributions, column 11).

FUND NAME	SYMBOL	EXEMPT PERCENTAGE
Fidelity® Connecticut Municipal Income Fund	FICNX	2.18%
Fidelity® Connecticut Municipal Money Market Fund	FCMXX	12.76%

We suggest that you consult your tax advisor, who is most familiar with your circumstances and the laws of the state in which you reside, to determine how you should report this information on your state income tax return.
