

Your teen recently participated in our education session

Fidelity Financial Forward[®]

for high schools

Tips and tools to continue their financial journey

Now that they've completed this series, students can apply new skills and key learnings to help establish a solid financial foundation.

1

Set goals and understand costs

2

Create and stick to a budget

3

Spend and borrow responsibly

4

Make basic investments

5

Take steps toward financial independence

Teens who talk to their parents about investing are more likely to:

- ▣ Feel confident about financial topics¹
- ▣ Get a job or start earning income outside the home¹
- ▣ See themselves as long-term investors¹

Help your teen put their learnings into practice

Start a conversation

- ▣ "What's something you might want in 5-10 years that you could start saving for now?"
- ▣ "How does money factor into your plans for college or work after high school?"
- ▣ "Do you see yourself as more risk tolerant or risk averse when it comes to your money?"
- ▣ "What steps can we take to help you become more financially independent?"

Consider a Fidelity Youth[™] Account

- ▣ Hands-on experience saving, spending, and investing for 13- to 17-year-olds
- ▣ No account fees or minimums²
- ▣ Smart spending with their own debit card, all under your oversight
- ▣ Access to educational resources, tips, and tools
- ▣ Your teen can learn to invest with as little as $1

Open a Fidelity Youth[™] Account for your teen today.

¹Fidelity 2022 Teens and Money Study.

²No account minimums or account fees apply when opening a Fidelity Youth[™] Account. Expenses charged by investments (e.g., funds, managed accounts, and certain HSAs), commissions interest charges, or other expenses for transactions may still apply. See Fidelity.com/commissions for further details.

